

Environmental Legislation Awareness

This intensive one-day course is designed to equip delegates with a knowledge and understanding of the legislative structure, current environmental legislation and how it is enforced.

INTRODUCTION

No company or organisation can afford to neglect the law, but many companies still do not realise the full extent of their obligations under environmental legislation. Lack of knowledge is no protection for either a company or an individual. This course aims to cover the key legislative requirements that are required. This course seeks to address the need for business to gain an appreciation of applicable environmental legislation and the actions they should typically take to ensure they are legally compliant. This course is essential for those companies who are in the process of setting up a certified environmental management system.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This course is recommended for individuals with key environmental management responsibilities, particularly those seeking or maintaining certification against the ISO 14001 standard. It is also suitable for senior managers and directors and environmental auditors, in fact anyone seeking to increase their environmental legislative knowledge
